

Senior Manager Competitive Intelligence (f/m/div)*

Job description

As part of the Corporate Strategy department, we drive Competitive Intelligence across the organization and provide financial and strategic insights to enable management decisions. We support Infineon with tailored methodologies, tools, and platforms for Competitive Intelligence, leading the digitalization of our processes. All of this, we do with enthusiasm and passion! Are you passionate about Competitive Intelligence? Then you should pursue a fulfilling strategy career at Infineon by joining our team. We are looking for a Senior Manager who is passionate about the semiconductor competitive landscape as well as strategic and financial topics. In this role, you will have the opportunity to enable various strategic decisions, by defining, gathering, analyzing and distributing intelligence about Infineon's competitors. As well as being responsible for developing Infineon's strategic plans and for managing individual corporate strategy projects to ensure the companies continued successful growth and profitability.

In your new role you will:

- Continuously screen and analyze the strategic and financial development of Infineon's competitive landscape
- Actively support the organization in the set-up of modern CI related financial models
- Translate competitive intelligence into competitive actions - supporting our business and strategic projects
- Share knowledge on competitors' strategic moves with the organization to gain an understanding of their products, technologies, operations and sales & marketing related behavior
- Further establish an organization-wide exchange of CI interconnecting topics with multiple stakeholders
- Enhance and continuously improve a CI platform and foster an active community across Infineon

Profile

You enjoy working independently and want to provide guidance and coaching to the Infineon Competitive Intelligence community. Furthermore, you remain flexible, continuously focused on project quality and working solution-oriented. You have a clear understanding of how multiple functions contribute to achieve the business objectives. You are constantly curious, willing to reinvent yourself where the curiosity takes you, and are really passionate about something else than work, too.

You are best equipped for this task if you have:
