Job description

The Product Line for Ultra-Low Voltage MOSFETs (40V) is a young, dynamic and visionary team – driving innovation to enable the megatrends of tomorrow. We are looking for you, to join our diverse team as Product Marketing Manager, taking business ownership for a product group within the product line and define the product roadmap and global strategy. This is the right position for you, if you enjoy working in a dynamic, international environment and want to transform your creativity and entrepreneurial spirit into tangible action!

In your new job you will:

- Drive, define and ensure execution of the future product roadmap
- Develop and manage a business strategy for the product portfolio to ensure the best positioning in the marketplace, drive revenue growth and increase profitability
- Engage and build strategic relationships with key and channel customers
- Define the value proposition for the product and develop the initial market introduction plan (4Ps)
- Act as project owner for R&D projects and orchestrate marketing efforts and deliverables (business case development, requirements gathering) during the development milestone process
- Intensively collaborate with Product Management, Technical Marketing, R&D, Quality, among others.
- Analyze markets/competitors to gain an extensive understanding of the business environment
- Team up with worldwide sales, marketing and distribution colleagues in order to maintain our leading market position
- Support technical marketing and marketing communications with content for new product introductions and the creation of communication material
- Represent the Product Line to internal and external partners worldwide

Profile

As a Product Marketing Manager, you need a broad technical understanding as well as business know-how and marketing knowledge. Your talent as a networker and entrepreneurial thinker makes it easy for you to work with many different types of people and to explain complex relationships in a simple and clear manner.

You don't follow processes blindly, but you are a proactive, self-driven character,
