

I get errors with some modules (e.g. CAPCOM6) when I try and configure them in the DAVe system. Could this be related to my operating system?. How do I get around these problems?

Preamble: Problems are known with users that have non-English versions of the Windows operating systems on their laptops or PCs. This can lead to some problems when using the DAVe system. Such problems have been reported from users with Korean Settings on their Laptops/PC's.

On your Windows desktop you can select the language choice for you operating system (see Figure 1).

If you have having problems with certain modules in the DAVe (i.e. the module does not open at all!) the best action is to change the language option for your Windows system. For this action we recommend that you change the setting to English.
